Norfolk, VA - Andria McClellan's campaign for the newly created 21st State Senate district announced that it raised over $100,000 with more than $70,000 cash on hand since launching her campaign on March 21st, 2022. The campaign also has more than $75,000 in pledges. In less than four months, Andria has received donations from more than 140 individuals, and 96 percent of her donations came from within Virginia.

The strong fundraising haul comes without support from any public utility companies.

"I am tremendously proud of the outpouring of support that I have received for my campaign for State Senate. Our robust fundraising in only a few months shows that my campaign is in a strong position to win in 2023. We have established an expansive coalition of support from Virginians who want to build a stronger, more inclusive economy, address climate change, protect reproductive rights, make our communities safer, and create a public school system that prepares students for the jobs of the future."

Andria McClellan is an action-oriented Norfolk Councilmember and a mom of Norfolk public school students. She has served on the Council for six years, where she has been a fierce advocate for flood mitigation, expanding access to broadband, increasing public transit, and reducing gun violence.
